

Richardson gets call-up

WYCOMBE defender George Borg has been suspended for a week and will so miss the side's visit to Woking tonight (Tuesday) for a Berger Isthmian League Premier Division encounter.

Borg, cautioned numerous times this season, started his suspension yesterday and so will miss only the one match, as the Wanderers do not have a game this coming Saturday.

More important, he will be available for the important holiday games against Slough Town, who are also in the running for the league title. The teams meet at Loakes Park on December 27, and at Wexham Park on New Year's Day.

But Borg's absence from the Woking match has left manager Mike Keen with a slight defensive worry, as Keith Mead the normal reserve defender, is unavailable.

Stiff test

Mr Keen has called up the reserve player Jim Richardson, who played a number of first team games at the start of the season. A left sided player, Richardson is happier in defence than in midfield where he was tried last time.

Richardson and the whole Wycombe defence could face a stiff test, for Woking showed in the first match at Loakes Park that they have some brilliant attacking players.

Athenian League side Burnham revealed that Wycombe striker Gary Toll nearly joined them last week.

Manager Malcolm Higton said on Saturday "If Toll hadn't played against Staines last Tuesday, I think he would have been a Burnham player by now."

Mr Keen replied: "That's the first I've heard of it. Although Gary's a non-contract player, I would hope to have been approached personally if any club wanted him."

The situation regarding Terry Scott and Wycombe has yet to be settled. Scott is believed to be staying in England until the end of the season. Mr Keen said on Monday: "Negotiations are still in progress."

Tony Price has completed his one week suspension, but his return might be delayed by a calf injury he suffered at Walthamstow.

Blues on record

WYCOMBE Wanderers have a video tape of their FA Cup first round match against Bournemouth. The VSH tape was donated to the club by the BBC, who gave the match brief coverage on the news. That, and a tape of the FA Trophy defeat at Burton Albion, are available from the club secretary John Goldsworthy.

Stuart's call

STUART Maddox of Wye Valley Rifle Club shot his way to an England Junior team training at a trials weekend in Bedford recently.
